Institution description

Julius Clinical’s RWE specialists and data scientists are academic thought leaders in real-world evidence, real-world data and the creation of tailor-made studies.

This includes being leading members of the EU IMI GetReal Initiative. Through this, we combine established expertise in RWE methodologies with Julius Clinical’s know-how in data sourcing, study execution and managing extensive scientific networks. As a key partner in the IMI Trials@Home and H2020 COVID-RED projects, Julius Clinical is also at the forefront of technology-driven solutions for decentralized clinical studies and has the knowledge, expertise and resources to design and conduct studies that include such approaches.
