Institution description

Syneos Health is a global Contract Research Organisation (CRO) and Contract Commercial Organisation (CCO), purpose-built to offer comprehensive solutions spanning from concept to commercialisation. We are therapeutically focused and have a dedicated team that specialises in peri-approval, post-approval, epidemiological and health economics and outcomes research. With our scientific and operational expertise we assist with all stages of late phase research, including designing and executing post-authorization studies, disease and pregnancy registries and multinational chart/electronic medical records review studies. We also offer consulting services for evidence planning.
