Institution description

We gather real-world data for medical effectiveness and treatment quality through an integrated proprietary platform. We combine,analyse and illustrate clinical data from various sources and present it in an understandable format. We offer solutions for monitoring and analysing different disease groups. Our disease-specific treatment monitoring platforms are the de facto solution in Finnish healthcare, both in public and private sector. They are in active, daily use, and currently monitor and analyze more than 100 diseases groups.
