Institution description

OM1 is a real-world data and evidence company transforming healthcare by unlocking the power of clinical data to accelerate research and improve decision-making. Our intelligent data cloud, based on billions of data points from EMRs deterministically linked to claims and other sources, enables stakeholders to quickly obtain research-grade evidence, measure outcomes, and personalized care.

OM1's experts leverage our continuously updated datasets on 300M+ patients and our expertise in primary data collection to support a wide range of research services, including:

- Post-authorization safety studies (PASS)
- Post-authorization effectiveness studies (PAES)
- Drug utilization studies
- Risk management activities
- Real-world evidence (RWE) generation for comparative effectiveness research, vaccine studies, and other regulatory and commercial needs
- Registry-based studies and creation of registry networks, with OM1 as a thought leader in this area

Our unparalleled data assets, scientific and technological expertise, and commitment to rigorous, transparent practices set us apart. OM1 aims to be the global source of high-quality RWE that informs decisions and improves patient outcomes.
