Institution description

The Toulouse University Hospital groups together several establishments located in the north and south of Toulouse. More than 3,900 doctors and 11,600 hospital staff treat 280,000 patients and 820,000 consultants every year. The CHU's research and innovation mission is an integral part of both its daily activity and its strategy for the future. It is carried out in close collaboration with faculties and research organisations such as the Institut national de la santé et de la recherche médicale (Inserm) and the Centre national de la recherche scientifique (CNRS). The CHU teams also carry out numerous projects with drug and medical device companies, associations and other hospitals.
