Institution description

Made up of an internationally renowned Research Center and a cutting-edge Hospital Group, Institut Curie, the first French cancer center, treats all cancers, even the most rare forms.

Research, care, knowledge transfer: to maintain its high level of excellence in scientific research and the fight against cancer, Institut Curie's statutory missions are built around these three interrelated pillars.
Comprising an internationally renowned Research Center and a state-of-the-art Hospital Group, Institut Curie is France's leading cancer center, treating all cancers, including the rarest.

It brings together 3,800 doctors, caregivers and researchers on its 3 sites: Paris, Saint-Cloud and Orsay.

Institut Curie is a foundation with a recognized public interest status (FRUP) authorized to receive donations and bequests. Thanks to the support of its donors, Institut Curie is able to accelerate discoveries and thus improve treatments and the quality of life of its patients.
